PILOT KILLED IN MORROW CO. CRASH

IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM SET BY PHONE CO.

Start Marion Area Expansion, Equipment Work; Cost Estimated at $1,300,000.

The Ohio Associated Telephone company's long projected $1,300,000 program for expansion and improvement of telephone service in Marion and nearby communities of Morral, Waldo and Green Camp, will start immediately, C E. Williams, vice president and general manager of the company, announced today.

The program is one of many planned for all company exchanges throughout the state. Through a series of such progressive steps it is intended to bring the most modern and efficient service available to subscribers, Mr. Williams said.

A major item in the rehabilitation program outlined by the company is complete replacement of existing central office switching equipment at the Marion exchange Present equipment will be replaced with new automatic equipment of greatly enlarged capacity. Replacement equipment will have a capacity of 10,000 lines as compared to the 3,500-line capacity of present equipment

There will be included in the new equipment a "dial tone" which may be identified by a steady "buzz" when the receiver is removed from the telephone instrument. The "dial tone" will indicate to the subscriber whether his telephone is ready for use. This feature minimizes the possibility of interruptions on party line telephones.

In order to compensate for the expected increase of the already heavy traffic load on the existing toll switchboards, new toll switchboards of improved design and maximum traffic handling efficiency will be installed.

Third Floor To Be Added

Inasmuch as the floor space in the present building at 197 South Main street will not accommodate the new equipment, provision has been made for erection of an entire new third floor Mr. Williams said present equipment located on the second floor would be removed after new equipment was placed in operation and the floor used for additional office space necessitated by the increasing expansion of the company operations.

The coordinated program also provides for replacement of central office equipment in Morral, Waldo and Green Camp with more modern equipment of enlarged capacity. A substantial increase in the number of circuits between Marion and the above mentioned communities will be made to relieve the traffic congestion which currently exists

Buildings for Morral, Waldo

It will also be necessary to erect new exchange office buildings at Morral and Waldo due to insufficient floor space in the present buildings

Mr Williams pointed out that a survey of these exchanges had been made to insure that all foreseeable telephone requirements might be met with a minimum of delay in fulfillment of present deferred applications and new applications for telephone service There will be additions made to all exchange distribution plants in the form of cable, open wire and associated equipment. But one of the still critical items at this time is the shortage of telephone cable, with present demand far exceeding production capacity, Mr. Williams said He pointed out that the distribution plant expansion projects would be dependent upon receipts of cable

The program of building construction and delivery schedules supplied by the manufacturers of the equipment indicate the new central office installations would be in service in the latter part of 1949 It is announced that continual improvements will be made to the present telephone service wherever possible by the company until such time as the new exchanges are in actual operation.

Construction Company

Construction here and at Morral and Waldo is being handled by the Arnold Carstensen Co., Inc., of Johnstown Pa Mr Carstensen estimated the projects would be entirely completed in eight months

About 50 per cent of his program will be handled through local subcontracts including electrical work, heating, plumbing, etc Construction will employ about 60 persons, part of whom will be drawn from the local labor market

Addition of the third floor to the present plant here will be fol-

Missing Typewriter Sought as Spy Clue

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—House investigators hinted today they have a lead on a missing typewriter described as crucial evidence in the "pumpkin papers" Communist spy case.

An agent of the house un-American activities committee said the machine would make it possible to check charges by ex-Communist Whittaker Chambers that he had received stolen government secrets from Alger Hiss, former state department official

The search for the typewriter began after Chambers told the committee his story of how the records reached him for transmission to a Red spy ring in 1937 and 1938. The committee recovered the papers in a micro-filmed form from a hollow pumpkin on Chambers' farm.

Chambers said Hiss used to take certain documents home in the evenings, had them copied by Mrs. Hiss on her typewriter and then turned them over to him (Chambers) for transmission to the Communist agents.

Hiss has denied Chambers' charges

Committee investigators said that although the alleged copying of the documents took place about 10 years ago, the machine should still provide enough "characteristic figures" to make a comparison.

The committee released a batch of the documents over the weekend Among them was a handwritten copy of a diplomatic dispatch which, handwriting experts told the committee, was written by Hiss.

The committee's hearings hit a temporary lull today as Rep Richard M. Nixon, (R) of California, prepared to go before a New York federal grand jury investigating Communism and espionage He took along the micro-filmed documents for the examination of the jurors.

Rep. Nixon announced that he also will try to make arrangements for the committee to hear witnesses now under subpoena of the grand jury. The committee wants to hear Chambers, Alger Hiss and his brother Donald, also an ex-state department official

The committee hopes to hear all of them sometime this week

RUSSIA ISSUES WARNING AS UN ADJOURNS

Vishinsky Assails U. S. and Britain in Final Paris Session.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Dec 13—Russia, bitter over the drubbing she has taken in the United Nations general assembly, dropped diplomatic niceties last night to issue a no-compromise warning to the West.

Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, attacked Britain and the United States in the closing minutes of the Paris assembly.

That part of the session usually is reserved for expressions of praise and hopeful thoughts for the future John Foster Dulles, acting chairman of the U S delegation, led off in traditional fashion

But Vishinsky strode to the rostrum and reviewed every case in which the Russians had fought the West.

This is not the time, he said, for "paeans of praise."

He said the session would be described in history as one which took further steps toward a policy of wrecking international cooperation.

Adjourned Until April

The assembly adjourned at 6 11 p. m. (12.11 p. m., EST), to meet again in New York April 1, 1949 to complete its work.

Vishinsky's outburst came soon after the Russian bloc had taken a severe beating in the assembly. The delegates voted 46 to 6 with one abstention (Sweden) to endorse the government of the Republic of Korea (south Korea).

The vote also continued a UN Korean commission and instructed it to seek again to unify Korea. Russia has barred the UN commission from northern Korea where she has set up a "people's republic."

Vishinsky, who has lost every major fight with the West in the assembly, tried vainly to do away with the Korean commission. On this proposal too, the vote was 46 to 6 against him

The end of the Paris assembly, the longest so far in the world body's history, found the western

Harding in Buckeye Athletic League

Harding High school was voted membership in the Buckeye interscholastic league at a meeting held in Findlay Saturday night Principal A C May announced today

As the sixth member of the 15-year-old conference concerned not only with athletics but also other school activities such as music and debate, Harding will join Bowling Green, Findlay, Fostoria Fremont and Tiffin

Harding met four of the league members on the football field this season and will meet two in basketball All of the league football teams but Bowling Green will be on the Harding schedule next fall and that school will take the place of a non league school as soon as the schedule can be worked out Mr May said

Harding Invited

The league organized in 1933 operated as a six member conference until the early war years when the Tiffin Junior Order Home withdrew Two weeks ago the league resolved to increase its membership to six again and invited Harding to join

Mr May and Supt L. I. Dickey accepted the invitation after a discussion of league policies Saturday

Harding a member of the North Central Ohio league for many years has been without league affiliation since that group disbanded four years ago Other members of the NCO league were Bucyrus, Shelby, Galion, Ashland and Mt Vernon

Besides football and basketball activities, the league sponsors each spring a band and orchestra festival inviting a guest conductor to direct the music. Choral groups from member schools also participate in the league-sponsored program

Inter-scholastic debates are another phase of the conference program, Mr May said They are held at school assemblies throughout the year.

Joining the league 'gives Harding the opportunity to participate in one of the outstanding leagues of the state," Mr May said

Harding defeated one of the members—Tiffin Columbian—on the gridiron this fall, but lost to three others, Fremont, Findlay and Fostoria.

In recent years, Fremont has been the lion of the league in football and Findlay its champion in basketball Last year Fremont fielded one of the best football teams in the state and Findlay captured the championship of the entire state in basketball In 1946 Findlay was defeated in the state basketball semi-finals.

Tiffin, of late, has been the league's weakest member in athletics.

Harding may not be eligible for athletic championship consideration until 1950 unless it can arrange to meet all member schools on the field, Mr. May said. A league rule requires that each team meet all the others for championship consideration.

Truman Wins Ohio—Officially—Today

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13—Three women and 22 men met here today to make President Truman's 1948 victory in Ohio official

The 25 comprised the Ohio electoral college Technically, it was they—and not the Democratic ticket of Mr. Truman and Sen. Alben W Barkley—who rolled up a plurality of 7,107 popular votes in Ohio last Nov 2.

Under the federal constitution, presidential and vice presidential votes are cast for electors. The electors, in turn, can vote for anyone they want to. However, since the Ohio 25 are all tried and true Democrats, no hitch was expected in delivering the votes to Mr Truman and Senator Barkley

The ballot-casting ceremonies were scheduled for around 2 30 p m

In most recent elections many Ohioans have been unaware that they are not voting for their party's nominees—but only for electors pledged to those nominees In 1928, the legislature voted to omit the names of major-party electors and list only the Republican and Democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates on the ballot.

A slate of electors appeared on the 1948 Ohio ballot, however It was pledged to the Progressive party candidates—Henry A. Wallace and Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho). But neither Wallace nor Taylor had their name on the ballot The electors were listed as independent candidates

Ohio is allowed 25 electoral votes under a federal constitution provision which says there shall be an elector for each congressman and senator from each state. Despite Mr. Truman's narrow margin of victory over the Republican nominee Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, all of Ohio's electoral votes go to the President under

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13 — A fourth flare-up of violence in the three-month strike at the American Zinc Oxide Co. plant today injured five workers, including one plant official.

Police reported eight men in one auto waylaid the men on their way to work a short distance from the plant. The attackers, said police, beat the five men with iron bars and clubs.

They identified the injured as: H. H Black, 47, assistant plant superintendent; Silas Williamson, 52, Bob Chaudoin, 57; Lucien Girard, and Earl Fink.

The men received head lacerations and cut hands. Black and Williamson were treated at University hospital; the others received first aid on the scene.

Trouble has broken out three times before at or near the plant. First time was Nov. 8, with succeeding outbreaks Nov. 27 and 29.

FOG BLAMED FOR DEATH OF TOOL DEALER

Wellington, O., Farm Machinery Agent Dies as Plane Falls Near Johnsville.

John Joseph Navratil, 36, farm implement and jeep dealer, of near Wellington, O., was killed instantly shortly after 9 30 a m. today when his plane crashed on a farm near Johnsville in Morrow county.

Patrolmen from the Marion substation of the state highway patrol said the plane crashed in heavy fog on the farm of W. S. Ferguson three miles northwest of Johnsville

Navratil was the only occupant of the ill fated ship. He was reported to have been enroute from a local airfield at Wellington to Columbus at the time of the crash

His ship a 1946 Cessna two-place cruiser, was demolished when it ploughed into a 14 acre wheat field It did not catch fire.

Plane Circles Farms

Ferguson who heard the plane come down about a half mile northeast of his farm home, was the first to reach the scene of the crash He reported the ship had circled the farm for some time. Visibility was very poor, he said.

The pilot was dead when Ferguson followed by his son Richard a former Army liason pilot, reached the plane From viewing the wreckage they surmised Navratil met death instantly.

Young Ferguson expressed the belief that the plane had stalled in an unsuccessful attempt to shoot a landing.

A neighbor Dan Goff, likewise reported hearing the plane circle about the farms as though hunting a landing field.

Talked to Mansfield Post

Both the Fergusons and Goff said they first heard the ship shortly after 9 a. m. The elder Ferguson indicated it was some time after that when he heard the crash. He was coming out of the barn at the time and although he could hear the plane's motor, the ship was hidden in the mist.

It was reported Navratil had been in radio contact with the Mansfield airport at 8:50, asking about instructions to land but had found the port weathered in without a chance of making a landing. He had circled the Mansfield port several times while talking with the tower there.

His body still in the remains of the plane when found, was removed by ambulance to the Craven Funeral home in Mt. Gilead. Active in the Wellington Chamber of Commerce, he operated his own business under the name of Navratil Tractor Sales and was the local Ford-Ferguson franchise holder.

An experienced pilot, he often used his plane on business. During World War II he had served as a CAP instructor. His wife and family survive.

ASK RECALL OF SCHOOL BOARD

Twinsburg Pupils Have Vacation While Elders Carry on Dispute.

By The Associated Press

TWINSBURG, O., Dec. 13—This small county community's 458 school high school pupils had an unexpected holiday today while their elders engaged in a dispute over administration of school affairs.

Latest development in the controversy, climaxed last week by the resignation of high school principal Glen Powell and all 17 faculty members, was circulation of petitions by a civic group seeking recall of all five school board members.

The recall petitions are being circulated by the Real Estate Owners' association, which for some time has been critical of the school administration and which last week demanded Powell's resignation.

"We need the signatures of 15 per cent of those who voted here in the election for governor," said Oscar Shupe, a trustee of the Real Estate Owners' association. He said 150 signatures would be required.

Open Session Set

Another group of citizens championing the school board organized Saturday night and announced an open session would be held Wednesday night in the school.

Shupe said he would attend the meeting of the opposing faction and added he was asking all members of the real estate group to do likewise.

"We might as well all get in the same room and get this ironed out," Shupe commented.

The school dispute first flared last month when high school pupils staged a three-day strike in protest against what they termed Powell's "high-handed tactics."

The controversy shifted to a justice of the peace court last week when Powell was held to the Summit county common pleas court on a charge of assault and battery of a pupil.

Father Makes Charge

John Hegedish, operator of an automobile repair garage, charged that his son, Ronald, 16, was slammed against a blackboard by Powell.

The entire faculty then declared teaching was impossible under the circumstances and submitted resignations, citing outside interference as the cause.

The school board tabled the mass resignations but announced that school could not open until "some manifestation of community sentiment" made school sessions possible.

County School Supt. Carl Coffeen said he welcomed the recall petitions "or anything to clarify this matter."

powers and Russia further apart than ever.

But many delegates said they were relieved. They said they had arrived in Paris last September fearing war might break out; they are going home feeling more optimistic about peace.

Questions Acted On

The major questions which the assembly disposed of were:

▶Creation of a Palestine conciliation commission made up of the U. S., Greece and Turkey. It will take over the work of the UN mediator.

▶It wrote a world declaration of human rights which the Russians refused to approve. The UN now plans to write a treaty on human rights.

▶Wrote a treaty outlawing genocide (mass destruction of racial, religious, ethnical, religious or national groups.)

▶Condemned Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria for aiding Greek guerrillas and reconstituted the UN special committee on the Balkans.

▶Approved the government of the republic of Korea, set up on the basis of elections held last may under the supervision of the UN Korean commission. The Korean commission was recreated with only seven members, instead of nine.

▶Instructed the UN atomic energy commission and the UN commission for conventional armaments to keep trying for a world agreement to regulate atomic energy and armaments.

Members of the security council arranged to keep delegates here for meetings this week but thus far no definite meeting has been called.

RIVER FLOOD SWEEPS OREGON FARM LAND

By The Associated Press

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 13—A rain swollen river flood crest swirled out of here today toward the farming heartland of Oregon's fertile Willamette valley.

Four persons have perished in the floods and storms that sent 500 fleeing lowlands here, stranded 200 neighbors away from home and ripped apart transportation and communication links throughout the state.

Trunk highways and rural roads are blocked by high water in the lowlands and earth slides and snow in the mountains.

Weather forecasts of light showers today and freezing temperatures in the mountains held some promise that the middle valley may escape heavy damage from the Willamette freshet caused by a week of rain and melting snow.

of the baby with a small pen knife.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green of near Prospect are the father and step-mother of Roxie Ann Green, 16-year-old Prospect school girl who was murdered a year ago last September. The slaying took place while the girl was en route from Prospect to her home four miles northeast of the village after attending a high school football game at Johnsville. Ray Shappard of Prospect now is serving a life term in the Ohio penitentiary for the slaying.

Mr. Green is foreman of a signal crew at Walbridge, O., for the C. and O. railroad. Columbus officials of the road said the Greens have been in California on vacation.

CABINET PAY HIKE ASKED BY TRUMAN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—President Truman asked congress today to raise the pay of cabinet officers from $15,000 to $25,000 a year and boost salaries of other top-level government officials.

The President presented his recommendations through Budget Director James E. Webb, who said the government must pay higher wages to pull the best men into government.

Webb told a senate postoffice and civil service subcommittee the President favors overhauling the entire pay structure, on the higher level.

Webb proposed salaries of $17,500 to $22,500 for undersecretaries, assistant secretaries, heads of independent agencies, boards and commissions.

"I submit," Webb said, "that the government can not continue on a sound basis over a long period if its most important positions of leadership and responsibility must be filled by men who have private salaries or by men without private means who serve at too great a personal sacrifice."

Webb said nothing about a pay raise for the President.

There has been considerable talk in congress, particularly in the last year, about raising the President's salary as well as those of cabinet officers.

The President now receives $75,000 a year and a $30,000 tax-free expense account.

For President Truman to get an increase, it would have to be voted before Jan. 20—inauguration day of his first full term. The Constitution say the President pay may not be raised or lowered "during the period for which he shall have been elected."

PHONE CO.

lowed by remodeling and redecoration of the second floor for enlargement and expansion of office facilities long needed at the company's central office for the entire state, it was pointed out.

Present personnel here totals between 135 and 160 employes, 60 of whom are toll and switchboard operators. From Marion, activities in the 136 exchanges in 62 Ohio counties are directed.

Provisions for More Lines

To handle a present backlog of 2,297 orders for telephone service from the Marion exchange, including 2,066 in the city, installation of 2,000 additional lines is to be made initially. This will bring the present line volume up to 5,500, from which point the company plans to add additional lines as community needs develop. The maximum 10,000-line capacity of the new exchange was thought to be adequate for future growth of the community and neighboring areas served here.

Installation of additional service will come in direct proportion to the ability of the company to fill its needs for cable to extend the service networks.

Use of First $1,000,000

Approximately $1,000,000 of the total to be spent here at the present time will go into the central exchange program in the Marion office with the balance to go for modernization in the exchanges in Morral, Waldo and Green Camp.

The program here is being duplicated throughout the Ohio Associated system where it is estimated the company will spend from nine to ten million dollars on modernization within the next five years.

Heavy sacks of coal and flour, which form the bulk of the airlift tonnage, are rarely bothered.

But American and British authorities said it was almost impossible to prevent some shoplifting by German laborers.

Lecture-Recital Club Presents Christmas Program.

In an appropriate Christmas setting, with lights dimmed, the Marion Lecture-Recital club chorus and organ soloists presented the annual vesper musicale at Epworth Methodist church Sunday afternoon. The chorus filled the choir loft, and below were arranged two seven-branch candelabra with lighted tapers, and greenery, together with two silvered fir trees. The chorus is directed by Miss Elizabeth Edgar, and Miss Rosaline Manzo is accompanist.

Opening the program was organ music by Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence who played "Christmas Pastorale" and "Adeste Fideles." The chorus sang four numbers, "Agnus Dei," "Dearest Lord Jesus," "Rise Up Shepherd an Foller," Negro Christmas spiritual, for which Mrs. Paul McMahon was soloist, and "A City Called Heaven."

Offertory "Noel Languedogien," was played by Miss Lawrence. The offering was in charge of Dr. V. E. Busler host pastor. It was designated for music in veterans hospitals.

5 DIE IN SECOND CHICAGO HOTEL FIRE

By The United Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 13—City officials today investigated Chicago's second downtown hotel fire within three days.

Five persons were killed yesterday when flames raged through 28 rooms of the Victoria hotel's fifth floor, eight persons spent the night in hospitals, although none was in serious condition.

Last Friday, 200 residents fled without injury when the Capitol hotel caught fire. Three of those routed from the Capitol had moved to the Victoria only to flee into the street again.

One of them, Anna Wells, escaped injury in both fires. She said she ran from the Capitol hotel clad only in a nightgown, "but this time I managed to throw on a robe."

Several guests escaped by tying sheets and blankets together and sliding down to the street, while others were saved by fire department rescue teams.

REDS PUSHING ON TOWARD HWAI RIVER

By The Associated Press

NANKING, Dec. 13 — Chiang Kai-shek's grim watch on the Yangtze is coming sooner than expected.

With a Chinese Communist attack reported only 50 miles northwest of this capital, government military sources said Red infiltration and heavy Nationalist losses may soon force abandonment of the new Hwai river defense line. That would shove National defenses back to the Yangtze river.

Ohioan Is Finalist On Talent Program

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — Stanley Morse of Zanesville, O., was one of four finalists last night in the Horace Heidt amateur talent competition. A trombonist, Morse won $1,000.

Dick Contino, 18, of Fresno, Calif., an accordionist, topped the finalist and received $5,000 and a gold championship belt.

Judges were Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and Postmaster General Donaldson.

Morse congratulated the winner after the results were announced.

The contest covered a 12-month period in a series of one-night stands by Heidt across the country. Joking about the contest, Vice President-elect Alben Barkley who was introduced to the audience told Heidt that he too knows what a job it is touring country.

"I recently completed a series of one night stands myself," he said.

Other winners were Pierce Knox, a blind xylophonist of Oakland, Calif., Johnny Mungal of Flint, Mich., Irish tenor.

College President Raps Fraternities

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 13—College fraternities are "lousy" of prejudice and snobbery and should be abandoned, a 34-year-old college president charged today.

Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence college at Bronxville, N. Y., told an interviewer fraternities are a "built-in system of discrimination, and offset principles which should be taught in the classroom."

"The whole system is undemocratic," he commented. "It's time somebody busted it up."

His remarks were prompted by the recent lifting of the charter of an Amherst college fraternity chapter which has pledged a Negro.

Sarah Lawrence is essentially a womens college and has no fraternities, but it does have 40 male students, one of whom a Negro, is vice-president of the student council.

BANDIT UNDONE BY HAIL OF GROCERIES

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., Dec. 13—George W. Kimmel, 48, was held today on four charges as a result of a daring holdup of a busy supermarket.

Market customers and a passerby helped bring about his arrest minutes after the Saturday night stickup.

Police Chief Hugh Rudity charged Kimmel with armed robbery, auto larceny, carrying concealed wepons and shoting with intent to kill. The chief said he also may file kidnaping charges.

The Alfred Schaeffer market, one of the city's largest, was jammed with some 150 customers when a bandit entered, demanded all bills from seven cash registers and fired two shots into the ceiling to enforce his orders.

As the gunman backed out the front door, customers tossed canned goods and vegetables at him. The bandit ran to a car he had left at the curb, with the motor running and lights on.

But L. R. Gable, a passerby, had noticed the car, heard the shots and taken the ignition key "as a precaution." The robber then fled on foot.

Four officers arrested him within a few blocks. Chief Rudity said they recovered $1,980 taken from the market.

TO REVIEW CASE OF MAN WHO CAME BACK

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13 — Gov. Thomas J. Herbert plans to recaped convict who came back after caped convict who ame back after 26 years of freedom.

W. H. Bucksbarg, 48, walked into Ohio penitentiary Saturday and identified himself as a trusty who fled in September 1922 while working in Columbus state hospital.

Bucksbarg was serving a one to seven year term for grand larceny in Stark county. After his escape, he went to Pittsburgh, changed his name to W. H. Dern, married and adopted four children. He became a master carpenter and a respected citizen.

The governor said he understood Bucksbarg was convicted of stealing about $50 worth of scrap brass from the Ohio Power Co. in Canton.

The warden said that under Ohio law Bucksbarg — who had served six months of his sentence —would be required to serve an extra year for escaping, making him eligible for a parole hearing in 18 months. The governor can issue an executive pardon, however.

Bucksbarg said he decided to give himself up because he "wanted to get this matter cleared up."

COSTA RICA APPEAL GOES TO MINISTERS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—Costa Rica's appeal under the Rio pact for inter-American help to repel an armed invasion went before 21 western hemisphere foreign ministers today.

Neighboring Nicaragua was formally accused of providing the springboard for the Communist supported attack by between 200 and 1,000 men.

The foreign ministers will decide by tomorrow afternoon whether to convene an emergency session to consider defensive measures under the mutual aid treaty—in effect only 10 days.

Yesterday's action under the inter-American defense system followed rapidly after invaders landed in the bay of Salinas on the Pacific side of Costa Rica and overpowered a 20-man garrison in La Cruz. The town is located in the northwestern sector of the Central American republic which reaches within 180 miles of the Panama Canal.

LABOR ISSUES BEFORE COURT

Some Decisions May Be Wasted If Taft-Hartley Act Is Repealed.

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—The supreme court may be wasting a lot of time on pending labor cases if the new Democratic congress carries out the promised repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, many of the labor issues now before the court may evaporate—but not until after the tribunal has gone to all the trouble of ruling on them.

On the other hand, the court may save congress some time with constitutional rulings on sections of the law that organized labor wants repealed.

Red Affidavit Question

For instance, the court is slated to decide this term if the non-Communist affidavits required of union officials by the Taft-Hartley law violate freedom of political belief.

Many congressmen favor keeping the anti-Communist section. But if the court says the affidavit requirement is illegal, the legislators won't have to worry about it.

Perhaps the biggest single issue before the court is the ban in three states on the closed shop and all other kinds of union security clauses in labor contracts. Thirteen other states have similar laws.

The Taft-Hartley law bans the closed shop but permits a union shop upon a majority vote by employes. And it specifically allows states to prohibit all kinds of union security.

Before a new federal law can be rewritten, the court may hand down its decision. The ruling could hold that the state prohibitions are all right so long as consistent with federal laws.

Might Need New Decision

But, if the Taft-Hartley law is repealed, the court might have to decide the issue all over again—can states forbid unions to sign union security agreements when federal laws allow such contracts?

There are other labor issues now before the court:

▶Supervisory Employes — The Taft-Hartley law takes foremen and other supervisors out from under the protection of the National Labor Relations Board. The Foremen's Association of America wants this declared unconstitutional.

▶Secondary Boycotts — The Taft-Hartley law makes it illegal to refuse to handle so-called "hot" goods unless the union members are directly involved in the labor disputes. The court is considering cases from California and Missouri where state courts issued injunctions against labor unions engaged in such boycotts.

▶Pensions — Must employers bargain collectively, upon demand of unions, on retirement plans? The NLRB has ruled they must. There is not likely to be any change in the section of the Taft-Hartley law under which the board made that ruling.

▶Conflicting Jurisdiction—Can state boards also regulate unions which already are subject to regulation of the NLRB? The national board says no.

Lausche Picks Galion Man for Cabinet

ROBERT L. MOULTON

CLEVELAND, Dec. 13 —Robert L. Moulton, 41 of Galion, is going to be state commerce director again.

Governor-elect Frank J. Lausche announced Saturday that Moulton had consented to take the post when the new Democratic administration takes over next month.

Moulton was commerce director under Lausche from October, 1945 until the Republican administration of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert took over the following January.

Moulton resigned as minority floor leader in the Ohio house to take his first appointment to the $6,500 a year cabinet post.

Lausche announced the appointment by saying:

"Robert L. Moulton of Galion has been asked and has consented to serve as director of commerce in my cabinet."

Moulton became one of the outstanding Democratic leaders in the Ohio general assembly during the three terms he served as a member of the lower house.

The commerce director supervises the state banking division, division of insurance, division of building and loans and the securities division.

Moulton is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university, a former instructor in American history in Galion public schools and a former president of the Crawford County Bar association. In the legislature, he was a member of the salary study commission.

SCIO PLANNING FOR CHRISTMAS

Workers Economize on Annual Party To Help Pay for Rebuilding.

By Brush-Moore News Service

SCIO, Dec. 13—History will repeat itself at the Scio-Ohio pottery this Christmas.

There will be no fabulous bonuses for its employes like the ones which jolted the country awake two years ago or the somewhat smaller amounts slated for distribution last Christmas before flames swept the plant, leaving in their wake damage amounting to $1,500,000.

Instead, this Christmas, there will be a box of chocolates for each employe — reminiscent of those which Lewis P. Reese gave to his workers that first Christmas after he opened the pottery — 16 years ago.

Only this year, instead of costing 39 cents, the boxes will cost $1.

The annual pottery party, which has become the biggest event of the year on Scio's social calendar, will be held Christmas night in the pottery. The elaborate banquet of recent years has yielded to an old-fashioned "poor man's party."

Year of Saving

"It's the only suitable thing to do," Lew muses. "After all, we've all worked hard all year saving every cent we could possibly save".

Huge volumes of equipment and boxed ware will have to be moved out of a part of the warehouse in order to make room for the 3,000 to 4,000 people who are expected to turn out for the party this year. Among the guests will be, in addition to pottery employes, members of their families and guests, and representatives of the companies who have helped in rebuilding the plant.

The ladies of the town will serve ham sandwiches and coffee. Lew is providing entertainers and an orchestra for dancing on the cement pottery floor.

Today, just a year to the day after the fires which produces their livelihood turned on them, the world's largest producer of white ware is making 22,000 dozen pieces a day. This is 2,000 dozen more than were being produced before the fire.

The rebuilding, which cost upwards of $1,000,000, is finished and if all goes well, will be paid for by Christmas.

How It Was Done

"We haven't done it out of earnings entirely," Mr. Reese hastens to explain. "The increased production is due more than anything else to the enthusiasm of the workers to get out of debt, but even then we had to use our reserve and the $400,000 which was to have been divided among the workers last year."

There are 860 employes on the payroll now, 23 more than were working when the fire occurred. The increase came when additional workers were hired to aid in the construction and were later absorbed into the regular schedule.

Today the plant is becoming as nearly fire-proof as Mr. Reese can make it. All new construction is of steel and concrete. Next year he plans to replace all wood in the rest of the plant with steel.

Childhood Ill May Be Serious.

REPORTS from many parts of the country indicate that whooping cough is again becoming more widespread. Whooping cough, known to the doctor as pertussis, is actually the most serious of the "catching" diseases of children. If it is not fatal, it may still be the start of an active tuberculosis infection, it may be the forerunner of asthma, or it may have a damaging effect on the child's nerves and glandular system.

Whooping cough tends to occur in epidemics. It is most severe in the colder climates, and is produced by the germ known as Bordet-Gengou. The disease is spread by droplets thrown into the air by coughing and sneezing, and is most catching during its early stages. Usually one attack produces immunity against any further attacks of the disease.

The symptoms appear about 10 to 12 days after the child has been exposed to the disorder. The condition starts with a slight cough, which gradually becomes worse, and there may be some sneezing, nasal discharge, and slight fever. The attack soon becomes quite severe and, at the end of the coughing spell, the child sharply draws in the breath which causes the whooping sound.

The complications of whooping cough are what make the disease so dangerous. The coughing may be so severe that bleeding occurs from the nose and mouth. Now and then a hemorrhage into the brain has been noted. The most serious complication, however, is pneumonia, and the pneumonia in turn, is most serious in babies and children under five years of age. Sometimes the coughing attacks cause the little air sacs in the lungs to dilate or stretch. This is called emphysema.

There is a vaccine which will prevent whooping cough or at least make the attacks much milder. Many physicians, such as Dr. Louis Sauer of Illinois, suggest that this vaccine be given as soon as possible after the baby is three months old and surely by the time the baby is six months old.

The child with whooping cough should, of course, be separated from well children. However, he should not be kept in a closed room, since fresh air is desirable.

D. B.: Is it possible to live a healthy normal life with just one kidney working?

Answer: One kidney, functioning normally, can eliminate the body wastes satisfactorily. It is impossible to state definitely what might be the outcome in such a condition without knowing the exact type of disorder which is present.

Browns, Cards Picked To Retain Titles in Loop Playoffs Sunday

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 30—Professional football presents its grand climax—the championship playoffs—next Sunday, with the Chicago Cardinals and Cleveland Browns strongly favored to retain titles in their respective leagues.

The Cardinals will invade Philadelphia to dispute the National league crown with the Eagles—a repeat of the 1947 finale. The Browns will be host to the Buffalo Bills at Cleveland in the All America conference decider.

The Cardinals and Bills warmed up for the occasion yesterday by staging last-gasp rallies to capture a six-minute spurt in the last period to turn back their intra-city rivals, the Bears, 24-21, and clinch western section honors.

Buffalo exploded 21 points in the last 15 minutes to quell Baltimore, 38-17, for the eastern title in the All America. A turnout of 27,237 at Baltimore witnessed the game.

The Philadelphia Eagles, who had already clinched the National league's eastern title, subdued Detroit, 45-21, and closed their slate with nine victories, two defeats and a tie.

This looks rather unimposing beside the remarkable record hung up by the champions, who won 11 games and dropped one earlier in the year to the Bears.

The Cards donned tennis shoes to whip the Eagles, 28-21, on frozen Chicago turf in the playoff game last year. Then just by way of showing this wasn't an accident the champions conquered the Eagles, 21-14, in the first game of the 1948 season—their only meeting during the regular run.

Vital won-and-lost figures, if nothing else, also make Cleveland an overwhelming choice over Buffalo.

The Browns, who defeated the New York Yankees the last two years, shouldered majestically through 14 straight games to take the AAC western division crown.

The Buffalo Bills tied with Baltimore for the eastern lead merely by breaking even—seven victories and seven defeats. This necessitated the extra game.

Talk Swap with Three Major League Clubs

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 13—The major league meeting, an event as a graveyard up to now was expected to come to life today with the New York Yankees providing most of the action.

General Manager George Weiss of the New York Yankees is reported undertaking an ambitious plan of dealing simultaneously with three different players.

All may be consummated before the baseball moguls officially close Wednesday. The hottest of the three involves Fred Sanford, strong-armed pitcher of the St. Louis Browns. The others involved the Washington Senators and the Chicago White Sox.

Although Weiss stoutly refused to discuss his business with newspapermen it was learned from a responsible source that Sanford, who won 12 and lost 21 for the Browns last season, is the man George is after. Bill Dewitt, vice-president of the Browns is willing to part with his 200-pound right hander, and has demanded two second line Yankee hurlers and Sherm Lollar, a catcher in addition to the tidy sum of $50,000.

All that is holding up the deal is Weiss' reluctance to part with one of the two pitchers, a young farmhand who showed lots of promise in the minor leagues last season.

Weiss also has been negotiating for Mickey Vernon, slender first baseman of the Washington Senators.

Another much discussed topic at the minor league meetings, concerning Bob Dillinger, Brownie third baseman, appears to have died down. However, indications are that Dillinger will play for an American league team other than the Browns next season. The Yankees, Cleveland Indians, Philadelphia Athletics and White Sox are known to have made strong bids for the bespectacled infielder.

The Browns have refused a Philadelphia offer of $150,000 and five Athletic farmhands for Dillinger. They also have turned down a White Sox offer of $100,000, outfielder Dave Philley and infielder Cass Michaels for him.

On the National league front, a report circulated that three clubs—Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Boston Braves—expressed interest in Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey, Chicago Cub outfielder. Charlie Grimm, Cub manager, is willing to listen, but wants a high class pitcher in return. The same is true for any club that wants his first baseman, Eddie Waitkus.

Official business began today. The American and National leagues held separate meetings.

MICHIGAN STATE NEW MEMBER OF BIG 9

When League Will Become Big 10 Not Known.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 13—Michigan State college was a new member of the Western conference today, but nobody knew just when the Big Nine would start functioning actively as the Big Ten.

Michigan State, East Lansing, Mich., institution with a 16,000 enrollment yesterday unanimously was voted conference admission by the league's nine faculty representatives.

But there was a slight joker—one that had conference football coaches scratching their heads as they labored today on schedules for 1950-51-52.

Formal membership won't be granted Michigan State until a certifying committee goes through the motions of full-dress inspection of the Spartan school and submits final approval next spring.

Meanwhile, the football coaches must wonder how the Spartans will fit into the picture for four seasons, including 1949 when Michigan State plays its traditional state game with Michigan.

Once the certifying committee okays Michigan State, either in March or May, the new member will be a regular conference opponent for any other member it faces in football.

Both Michigan and Minnesota will be faced by Michigan State in 1950, and Indiana and Purdue may be on the Spartan grid slate by that time.

A conference rule, however, requires that a minimum of six league games must be played for championship contention. That means Michigan State, with no chance for the title until it can get a full conference schedule, meanwhile can spoil—or enhance—any conference opponent's championship chances.

1948 Goes Down as Year Of No Football Defense

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 13—The 1948 college football season goes down in the record books as the year of no defense.

National Collegiate Athletic Bureau defensive statistics released today show the new leaders turned in the highest—or "worst"—figures ever to earn a team first place a National defensive rankings.

Georgia Tech won total defense honors by allowing 151.3 yards per game via both rushing and passing, a total almost twice that of last year's Penn State mark of 76.8.

Georgia tech led in rushing defensive with a 74.9 figure.

Rose Bowl bound Northwestern took forward pass defense laurels with a 54.1 yard yield per game, considerably higher than the 1947 mark of 39.3 by North Carolina state.

However, Northwestern not only yielded fewer 1948 passing yards but also restricted its rivals to the lowest percentage of completions—32.6 per cent.

Michigan's national champions kept the enemy off the scoreboard more frequently than anyone else allowing 44 points, followed by Clemson, 53, Penn State 55, Tulane 60 and William and Mary 67.

The bureau's figures would seem to indicate Michigan's Wolverines reversed their tactical field this year in turning in their second straight undefeated season. Last year Michigan was tops in scoring, total offense and passing offense.

Most passed against team was Michigan State, whose foes tried 232 aerials and succeeded with 104 of them—most completions recorded against a single team for the year. Others to have 200 or more passes tried against them were Notre Dame, 216; William and Mary 215; Vanderbilt, 206; Santa Clara, 203 and California, 202. It was the second year in a row that California withstood a 200 or better passing barrage.

Most scored upon via passes was Nebraska, against whom 73 or 144 passes were completed for 19 touchdowns.

Pennsylvania and Denver led in the blocked punt department with six apiece.

Utah led in pass interceptions stealing 17.8 per cent, or 27, of the 152 flung against the Utes. Utah State was next at 17.4, or 25 interceptions of 144 passes. Other teams intercepting 15 per cent—or more were Miami (Fla.) 16.2; Georgia, 15.9; Ohio State, 15.8; Drake 15.6; Northwestern, 15.5, and Arizona, 15. Greatest number of pass interceptions was 30 (of 202) by California.

DEER HUNTERS TAKE TO FIELDS TODAY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13—Between 15,000 and 20,000 Ohio deer hunters take to the fields in 13 counties today — start of a six-day season allowed by the state conservation commission.

They will be on the trail of the shy, elusive animal in northwestern Ohio, the only area where the deer may be hunted legally.

Conservation officials believed the number of hunters during the six days may reach 20,000, twice as many as last year, because reports from the fields say the deer population is ample.

Only eight counties were open for hunting last year, but five were added for this season. Counties for the deer hunting are Lake, Geaugha, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Portage, Columbiana, Jefferson, Carroll, Mahoning, Stark, Summit, Harrison and Tuscarawas.

Last year about 1,000 deer were killed in the eight counties, and at least that many are expected to be bagged this year. They say the deer population will be big enough to furnish each hunter his legal quota—one animal of either sex for the season—providing he's lucky in his shooting.

Hunting hours are from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily Monday through Saturday. Authorized weapons are shotguns using the rifled slug or "pumpkin ball" loads and bows of not less than 40-pound pull and barbless arrows. No rifles of any caliber are permitted.

8 Teams See Action In Wyandot Openers

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Dec. 13 — The eight class "B" high school cage quintets in the county saw action Friday night as the league schedule rolled into full gear. Nevada entertained Marseilles on their own floor. Harpster played at Wharton, McCutchenville entertained Eden and Sycamore was host to Salem.

McCutchenville tripped Eden 43-41 in a game that was never more than two points difference at the end of a quarter.

Wharton turned back Harpster in a thriller, with a score of 32-27. Wharton varsity team has won six out of eight games played.

Marseilles outscored Nevada by thirteen points, 48-35.

The Salem Cornhuskers won over the Wildcats of Sycamore, 55-30.

For Salem this victory was the fifth in as many starts, while for Sycamore the loss was the second in five starts.

High scoreman of the league was Snavely of Marseilles with eighteen points, close behind was Barth of McCutchenville with seventeen points.

TROT "FIX" DRIVERS TO APPEAL TODAY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13—Directors of the United States Trotting association today hear appeals of six drivers suspended for life after a race was said to have been fixed in Kentucky last summer.

Their cases are scheduled for 2 p. m. The drivers were set down by the Kentucky district board after a race at Brent Lawn, near Louisville.

They are Louis Huber Jr. of Mt. Healthy, O.; George Rappenburg, Muncie, Ind.; Harold Snodgrass, Indianapolis; Bernard Shepherd, South Beloit, Ill., and Herman Stepro and Art Phillips, both of Corydon, Ind.

Also up for consideration are a request for approval of a 62-night meeting at Phoenix, Ariz., and the appeal of Orie Bell Winchester, O., from an indefinite suspension on a "ringer" charge.

The USTA session opened last night with a series of secret committee meetings. The committee recommendations will be made sometime today.

One of the most persistent rumors making the rounds last night was that Steubenville's half-mile track will have a night harness racing season this year. The Steubenville course was the scene of thoroughbred meetings in 1943-44-45.

FRANK WINS OPEN, CHICK TOP DOUGH

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 13—Amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., today set his sights on other major PGA golf tournaments after winning $10,000 Miami open with a 10-under-par 270.

Stranahan coasted in with a par 70 on the final round yesterday to finish four strokes in front of Melvin (Chick) Harbert, Detroit professional, who blew a 72 and 274 but took first money of $2,000. Stranahan received a set of sterling silver mugs.

Harbert set a Miami Springs course record of 62—eight under par—for the 6,735-yard layout Saturday but with the pressure on all the way, withered for a three-over-par 38 on the outgoing nine.

Stranahan was the first amateur ever to win the Miami open in its 25-year history.

Second and third place money was divided between Tony Penna of Cincinnati, O., and Steve Warga Jr. of Miami. Warga had a 67 yesterday and Penn a 68 to tie at 276. They split $2,400.

Pre-tournament favorite Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., finished with a 67 and 277 to tie Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Herman Keiser of Akron, O. They got $700 each.

Game Law Violations Hit All-Time High

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13—Game law violations in Ohio during November reached an all-time high for the month, conseravtion commissioner H. A. Rider reported today.

More than 900 arrests for game law violations during the month already have been recorded and the total is expected to reach 1,000 when all reports have been filed with the conservation headquarters here, Rider said.

A total of 575 arrests for game law violations were made last November

Maybe we're all getting more interested in our fellow men, or higher taxes are stirring up charitable impulses . . . because every year more and more money is being given for philanthropy. Oddly enough, every time taxes go up, more money is donated for good works, which seems to indicate we don't mind giving it away so much, if we can deduct it. As some sage once said, "It takes a heap of heaping to make a heap" and last year, the various charitable foundations spent $72 millions of donated money, which is a heap in any language! No matter what prompts the giving, the results are all to the good.

The Labor Department claims, "Man's Clothes Give Him Top Rating as Spender in Family." However, they neglected to say which man and which family. The family finances can often be a major problem. Louis Says Ez Has Earned Title Shot

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13—Joe Louis said today he figures Ezzard Charles has earned a shot at Joe's championship.

But there are a couple of ifs. The heavyweight king in training for a six-round exhibition at Convention Hall tomorrow night against Arturo Godoy, said emphatically:

"Charles proved in Madison Square Garden last Friday night that he's the leading heavyweight contender."

Louis added quickly that the Cincinnati slugger could establish his ranking "without question" if he licked Savold and Conn.

Charles socked Joe Baksi of Kulpmont, Pa., all over the Garden Friday in a decisive 11-round knockout.

New Kenton Axle Plant Ready for Inside Work

KENTON — Heat will be turned on Dec. 27 so that inside finishing can be completed at the new plant of the Timken-Detroit Axle Co. here which is scheduled to go into production April 1, it was reported by John F. Roach, engineer in charge of construction.

Installation of plumbing and heating equipment was started last week as well as electrical installation. Mr. Roach said he wants to have metal deck work and roofing finished by December 21. Roofing already has been placed on the boiler house and office area and over part of the main factory, at the rear. Approximately 12,000 square feet of roofing has been installed, he said.

The front wall of the factory facing on Route 68 is complete except for some stone work expected to be finished this week. Mr. Roach reports materials now coming through at a satisfactory rate.

He hopes to have the building completed by March 1, 1949.

Hospital Board Aids Blood Bank Plan

One of the first organizations to come forward with a helping hand in the Red Cross blood bank program which will get under way here on Jan 20 when the blood bank unit from Columbus makes its initial visit to Marion, is the Woman's Board of the Marion City hospital, which is planning to purchase a Jewett blood bank refrigerator and also a Bryan-Garrey pipette rotar for use at the hospital.

The laboratory at the City hospital has benefitted in many ways through the work and generosity of the board, during the 30 years of its existence Providing needed equipment for the laboratory has long been one of the major projects of the board and the new purchases will be another valuable contribution to the hospital and community

The blood bank refrigerator is cylindrical in design and the seven shelves revolve on roller bearings Each shelf can be adjusted in a few minutes to any height or size of bottle Every bottle of blood will be available immediately and any bottle may be removed without disturbing the others As a further aid, two white neon tubes extend the full length of the interior of the door frame making it possible to read every label at a glance The refrigerator is designed to meet the specific needs of blood storage and marks a distinct advance in mechanical refrigeration

The pipette rotor is for use in determined blood counts It was designed to assure uniform dispersion of blood cells in the diluting pipette and on the field of the counting chamber, resulting in blood cell counts of higher accuracy and increased uniform dependability.

Members of the board carry out a year-round program of aiding the City hospital by purchasing needed equipment from time to time and providing linens and other needed aricles throughout the year. The treasury is maintained through two major benefits, the annual holiday dance and the summer Little Grand Circuit Race meet ticket sales

This year the members are sponsoring their twentieth annual holiday benefit, a gala dance at the Hy-Way Rollarena on Tuesday night, Dec 28 A top-name dance band has been secured and tickets are now on sale at $5 a couple, $2.50 for single admission by the members. Patrons will dance to the romantic style of Russ Carlyle, new singing star and his band of musicians and entertainers. Dress will be semi-formal.

Mrs. Robert E. White and Mrs John a McNamara are general chairmen of the dance committee and heading a ticket committee are Miss Geraldine Hord and Miss Emma O'Brien.

ASK SANTA FOR HUSBAND. A Cleveland husband "about 35, with a good, steady, dependable job and $3,000 to $5,000 in the bank so we can buy a home and furniture" is what blond, curvaceous Mrs. Beatrice Hoodge De Molet, 35, of Dayton, wants for Christmas. Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

Harry Underwood caught his wife's cue with alacrity, and tossed it back to her.

"You've got something there," he said "After all the Chief did stress his wish that we get back home as soon as possible, and I can't imagine anything else save a possible visit from Carlotta Carroll, which would cause him to do any worrying over our whereabouts. Are you all ready to go?"

"All except my hat," his wife assured him.

"Then, perhaps if you put your mind to it," he told her with a grin, "you may be able to get it on by the time I get Winters up here."

He turned to me with his face as sober as that of the traditional judge, but with eyes twinkling.

"Me, I'm not so brash as some of the folks around this house," he said "We're going out of here under proper escort, as your Paw directed '

"I'm glad somebody has some sense," I said dryly, and the big man rose

"'Even if it is the lowest moron of the bunch?" he asked, but I refused to be drawn, and he sauntered to the door.

"With your kind permission," he told me, "I'll telephone Winters"

"The house is yours," I said, and then he was telephoning, evidently getting hold of the guard almost instantly.

"He'll be up in less than five minutes," he said, "so we'll make this snappy You realize, don't you, that there is a possibility of our not joining you at the farm?"

"Oh, why?" I exclaimed, startled into anxiety. I should be lost without Lillian, I knew.

"Think it over," he said tantalizingly

"You mean Carlotta Carroll?" I asked

"Exactly," he answered 'It's only a possibility, but the Chief may want us to ride herd on her while he's out at the farm."

"If he ever gets to the farm," I said gloomily, and my husband gave my hand, still in his, a gentle encouraging pressure.

"Keep the chin up, Sweet!" he murmured, and from somewhere I pumped up the strength to smile at him.

"I'm all right" I whispered back, and his tender answering smile gave me strength to fight down the anxiety for my father which was consuming me.

"There's Winters now." Harry Underwood said and, as he went to the door, Lillian bent over me

"If we get any word, I'll telephone you, in code, the next minute," she whispered, then with a warm embrace, and a "So long!" to Dicky, she was gone with Harry, and my husband took up the task of nerving me for suspense which must be mine until I heard from my father

Katharine's ring came promptly at the end of the hour she had named, and two minutes afterward, she Mary, Faith, Junior and Roderick were back in the apartment. Katharine gave Dicky an inspection, then pronounced him ready for more "visiting" with his children But I spoke directly to Faith.

"I must talk to Junior and Roderick about some things I wish them to do for me Will you entertain Daddy while we talk"

CARLTON K. MATSON, OHIO EDITOR, DIES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec 13—Carlton K. Matson, [illegible]-year-old chief editorial writer of the Cleveland Press and executive with Scripps-Howard newspapers, died today of cancer.

Matson brought his own ailment out into the open in a column a few months ago, called "Strictly Personal, but important to Everybody." In it he decried the hush-hush surrounding cancer.

The magazine Reader's Digest printed the column in its November issue.

Starting a newspaper career on the Springfield (Mass.) Daily News as a reporter, Matson later worked for the old New York Evening Mail, the New York Journal and the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In 1930 he was named editor of the Buffalo Times. Later he headed the Scripps-Howard bureau at Columbus, then became editor of the old Toledo News-Bee, another Scripps-Howard paper.

When the News-Bee was absorbed by the Toledo Blade, Matson went to work for the Libbey-Owens Ford Glass Co. of Toledo as publicist.

The Cleveland Press made him a columnist in 1944. Subsequently he was named associate editor and chief editorial writer for that paper.

This is what Matson wrote in his column on cancer:

"I was told the other day that the back injury which has been bothering me for months invites a malignancy. In plain language my friends, that of course means cancer.

"What I want to do is to strike a blow against this mysterious, paralyzing hush-hush that surrounds every case of cancer. I don't want anybody having to ask about me, 'Does he know what he's got?' Has he been told? Yes, I've been told and I know.

"Also, I don't want good friends of mine feeling sad and apprehensive about talking to me about anything and everything, including cancer.

"If my life on earth must be foreshortened—as certainly seems possible at this moment—I want every particle that's left of it wide open and uninhibited to the freest intercourse I know with all good souls."

Strange Screen Star

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

THERE is an unusual young man from Hollywood in town.

He's been here a week and hasn't kicked a pigeon in the shins—let alone a policeman. He hasn't put his fist against anybody's face in a burst of bourbon-born exuberance. Nor has he been accused of being the life of a theater party.

These are negative virtues enough, but Jerome Courtland bears the heavy responsibility of having given Shirley Temple one of her first grown-up screen kisses. It has positive virtues as well.

Hal Boyle

The shy, gangling six-foot-five-inch young actor is the most refreshing ambassador the movie moguls have sent here in years.

Jerry, a 22-year-old ex-sergeant who has been in five pictures, came to town without wearing the dark glasses with which many film stars camouflage their ceiling. He's been to only one night club. He doesn't drink or smoke, and his favorite beverage is milk.

"I drink a couple of quarts a day," he said. "Not as much as I used to."

THIS IS HIS first visit to Manhattan and these are his impressions:

"The buildings don't look as tall as I expected, but the streets are wider than I thought they'd be.

"You sure do have screwball elevator operators.

"Out in Los Angeles the street numbers run much higher than they do here."

A student of architecture (nonfeminine), Jerry has found the sky towers here less interesting than the advanced building styles of California.

One landmark of the New York scene, Toots Shor, the monumental restaurateur, appeared completely unknown to young Courtland. Shor's place is better known to most film visitors than Grant's tomb (It's noisier, too).

But Jerry, picking up a match cover in Toots' epic filling station, misread it and said:

"Toots Shop. What's that?"

For this one remark he deserves to become a figure of Broadway admiration.

JERRY ESTABLISHED another precedent by remarking seriously:

"I want to see a lot of museums while I am here, particularly the American Museum of Natural History."

This was almost heresy. A movie actor at that place—that "dead zoo." Why, the dinosaur might come to life in wonder.

Jerry made two films, including "Kiss and Tell," the picture in which he gave Miss Temple a memorable smooch, before entering the Army. He is currently featured in "The Man From Colorado."

"But I really don't expect to stay in the movie business as an actor," he said grimly. "I'm too gregarious. I like to eat people, but I like to pick when. And you can't do that if you're an actor."

In Hollywood Jerry lives by himself in a one-room efficiency apartment, cooks his own breakfast and dinner. Between meals he nibbles on six to eight brands of cold cereal. He's still a growing lad. Between film assignments he attends university classes.

"When I have any spare time," he said, "I like to climb a mountain—or read. I don't like novels. I like facts. I can sit down and read the encyclopedia and enjoy it."

IF JERRY SETS a new pattern for the film colony, it's going to be tough on the older players. Imagine the late W. C. Fields knocking off at the studio to assault a mountain. And then coming home to a bowl of tasty bran flakes, a big glass of foamy milk—and afterward curling up for a quiet evening with the encyclopedia!

But come again, Jerry. You strike a new note in Manhattan, thrice welcome stranger.

IN STOCKADE. Edward J. Lada, 28, of Newark, N. J., lounges in the U. S. military stockade in Berlin after he had penetrated the Russian blockade of the city just to visit his girl friend. Lada hitchhiked from Paris to Berlin through Russian guards and German police to see and marry Ursula Schmidt of Zehlendorf. U. S. Army authorities jailed the former wartime paratrooper and Berlin post exchange manager because he had no military entry permit.

REFUND MADE ON HOUSE FOR VETERAN

Rent Office Negotiates Settlement on Complaint.

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Columbus area rent office has negotiated its first settlement under the veterans emergency housing program. Refund was made to a veteran in the amount of $650. This was a voluntary settlement by the buyer, negotiated by Edward F. Wagner, area rent director, on behalf of the veteran who complained that the home he had purchased under this act had structural omissions and substitutions of materials. Wagner said, "Veteran home purchasers coming to our office with their complaints and we are now staffed to give them prompt attention.

"We have had a very high month in settling overceiling rent violations by compliance on the part of the landlords. We have collected refunds in the amount of $4,130.19 for 50 tenants.

"We are receiving an increasing number of complaints against illegal evictions. While it is up to the courts to decide eviction cases, our office is empowered under the present act, to seek an injunction against the landlord who we are led to believe, is evicting tenants illegally, particularly in those cases where we have effected an over-ceiling refund. We shall do everything within our power to protect the complaining tenant from a retaliating landlord.

"I am happy to say the great majority of the landlords we deal with are living up to the letter of the law."

Galion Will Decorate For Christmas, Mayor Says

Special to The Star

GALION—"There will be a Christmas tree on the public square during the holiday season," Mayor H. H. Hartmann said today. City officials will cooperate with Galion merchants in helping to erect a tree on the square. Due to stress of business in city hall, the city administration has been handicapped this year in getting the work done, the mayor indicated. Offer of a 30-foot tree was been made by Mrs. G. D. Finney.

Santa Claus arrived in Galion on the public square at 3 p. m. Saturday with a treat for Galion's children. A city fire truck brought him through the city streets. Before arriving on the public square, he stopped at the Crawford County Children's Home.

"AERODROP" INVENTED

By The United Press

MADISON, Wis.—William J. Sanderson has invented a "box with wings" which he says can be used instead of a parachute to drop mail and supplies from an airplane. The "aerodrop" is a container equipped with propeller-like wings which cause it to rotate and fall slowly to the ground from heights as high as 500 feet.

WAR STILL BLOCKS BETHLEHEM PATH

By The United Press

JERUSALEM, Dec. 13—Barbed wire [illegible] block the way of pilgrims to Bethlehem [illegible] of Christ.

But [illegible] Nations and consular representatives in Jerusalem [illegible] safe conduct for Christmas-going" the lines in the Holy Land.

Every year a few hundred of the faithful are expected to make the pilgrimage this year. And they will be mostly Christian Arabs from nearby villages.

Before Arab-Jewish warfare began, hundreds of thousands of persons from all parts of the world used to converge on the little hillside town at Christmas to worship in the Church of the Nativity, which is said to be on the exact site of the manger in which the Christ child was cradled.

In those pre-war years the Pilgrims filled the hotels of Jerusalem early in December, visiting the shrine of the Holy City and remaining to attend the Christmas eve services in the Church of the Nativity.

This year only some 20 United Nations staff members, consular employes, and Christian clergy still remaining in Jerusalem will make the trip through the no-man's land that now shuts off Bethlehem from the rest of the world.

And even the safe-conducts they will be given by both the Israeli and the Arabs will not guarantee against sniper fire.

Missing this year will be thousands of British and Allied soldiers who in recent years drove in trucks from Jerusalem to Bethlehem in organized pilgrimages on Christmas Eve.

Today only one rutted, makeshift road is accessible which does not cross battle-fields.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Britain's labor government has worked wonders for the people [illegible] under socialism has increased the average every resident has developed weak eyes and a toothache.

Mr Bevan reports that doctors who made $8,000 a year privately are now taking $4,680 from the government. A good post to delight any taxpayer's heart.

And the senate for grooms is such that no tortoise dare show his shell in public.

Under the dental plan the government pays up to $12 a tooth which used to cost the novitiate $1.50. The plan increases the 32-tooth-jackpot to $384.

Anyway plans are all set for the christening of the royal baby after an unavoidable delay. His name had to be submitted.

* * *

But it's a relief to the people. They were getting tired of calling prices at 10 cents to say not you to three dollars.

Convention Reports Heard by Pensioners

Reports on the convention held at Columbus were given and a program presented at a meeting of the Old Age Pension Society of Marion County Friday afternoon in the Eagles hall O B Christ, president, was in charge of the meeting which opened with devotions and patriotic exercises. Mr and Mrs Schrader and Mrs Grace Hann were delegates to the convention. Mrs Hann gave a report of the proceedings. Rev. Ty Spence, evangelist, was the guest speaker and gave a sermon on the rich man and Lazarus.

A song, "Sweet Bye and Bye" by the group and a duet, "Silent Night," by C A Ruth and W E Sergent made up the musical part of the program. The constitution and by-laws were distributed and Mrs Taylor and William F Porter were named a committee to arrange for a Christmas exchange. A song, "Throw Out the Life Line" by the group and the closing prayer by Rev John Goun, pastor of the Primitive Wesleyan church, completed the program.

You bet you can have Dynaflow on the Super!

LOOK this eye-filling smoothie over—and make note of the happy news:

It's the Buick SUPER for 1949—and you can have it in any of four body types, with that sensational engineering triumph, Dynaflow Drive.†

Now this sprightly stepper, too, has the drive in which oil does it all—as the climax of a long list of fresh features that make this the smashing buy of the season.

There's room, for instance—from gracious interiors where even the super-soft seats add space for hats and hairdos.

There's a view—and what a view!—from big, broad, full-curved windshields, narrower corner posts, one-piece rear windows—22% more glass area in 4-door Sedans.

There are doors that swing wider and with less effort—there are fine fabrics, rich fittings, interiors that sparkle with thoughtful touches.

And there's the soft sure-footedness of low-pressure tires. The extra safety and comfort of extra-wide rims. The fluent stride of all-coil springing—silky engine smoothness from Buick's exclusive Hi-Poised engine mountings.

A smoothie? This SUPER certainly is. On every score from its boldly fashioned grille to smoothly streamlined taillights and graceful, contoured bumpers.

Even the price tags are something to get excited about. Just look them over—see what they cover—match them against the field—and you'll head straight for the nearest Buick dealer to get your order in!

†Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE† • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRUFLEX COIL SPRINGING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT POWER on HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • Cruiser-Line VENTIPORTS (Super and Roadmaster) • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • Ten smart models featuring BODY BY FISHER

Moral Force

REALISTS will bemoan the fact that there is only moral force—no tangible enforcement agency—behind the world's first universal declaration of human rights adopted by the United Nations assembly.

But the Russian delegates who opposed adoption of the declaration also are realists, and they obviously had no illusions about the potency of moral force. That's why they opposed the declaration. Nothing is more powerful in the long run than an idea which makes sense to the masses of human beings. A declaration of human rights is the negation of authoritarian rule—a peremptory challenge to the dictators of a police state.

These are some of the points in the declaration that the Kremlin and its satellites object to:

That no individual shall be subjected to arbitrary interference with his privacy; that the family is the natural and fundamental group unit of society and therefore is entitled to protection; that everyone has the right to seek asylum from persecution in other countries; that none shall be subjected to arbitrary arrest or detention, and that everyone has the right to own property alone as well as in association with others.

These, along with such basic rights as freedom of speech and assembly which are the cornerstones of human dignity in liberal societies, have been the goal of enlightened men for at least 200 years. They are the doctrine of progressive civilization, and by that token the one thing that dictatorship cannot tolerate.

Rabbits on the Lettuce Issue

THE Chicago company whose payments for studying Ohio government are being held up by State Auditor Joe Ferguson made two miscalculations:

1. It decided that Ohio needed to fire a lot of jobholders, which wasn't what the Ohio salary study commission hired it to recommend;

2. It decided that Ohio should take the state auditor of politics by relieving him of all responsibility for financial policy.

Therefore, the company is in bad with Ohio politicians, including Ferguson, and will have trouble collecting its money. Rabbits, in other words, never vote no on the issue of whether there should be more lettuce; and jobholders never vote themselves out of existence.

It Was Lukewarm

IN 16 STATES the total vote for president of the United States in last month's election was less than the aggregate vote for other candidates. In five other states, individual candidates for state offices ran ahead of the two leading presidential candidates in the vote totals.

These are further symptoms of what seems likely to be called the outstanding characteristic of the 1948 election when it recedes into historic perspective. It was a lukewarm election. The ballot total—49,363,798—was millions below the expected turnout. Of all the ballots cast, 683,382 were cast by voters so disinterested in the presidential contest that they showed no choice. Some of them were "just mild about Harry," and others were "just tepid about Tom." There was a minimum of enthusiasm in the exercise of the franchise this year.

It's out of style now to rehash what befell the pollsters to make them so wrong. But arithmetic evidence showing that Mr. Truman won by a narrow squeak in a contest which failed to stir the imagination and interest of the electorate continues to accumulate. In the long run that may be more important than the outcome of the voting: it may reveal more about the state of the Union in 1948 and the political issues thereof.

The Twister

THE medical profession of the United States has an inalienable right to defend itself against socialism.

And for the information of those who may not understand what socialism of medicine would mean, an Associated Press report from London should prove interesting. It explains what U.S. doctors and dentists fear. The report describes how dentists practicing under Britain's nationalized health service have been making big money by treating Briton's teeth and billing the health ministry. The dentists are able to charge a higher fee than they could charge in private practice.

The twister in the situation is this: that the politicians now are cooking up a law to regulate dentist's incomes. No matter how hard they work, or how well they work, they can make no more than the government permits them to make. That's the inevitable consequence of socialized medicine. Control of the purse always leads to control of those competing for its contents.

It will be pointed out in this country that a federal health plan would not be socialized medicine; that doctors and dentists are accusing politicians of something that isn't even in their minds. Whether it's in the politicians' minds or not, it's implicit in the idea of making government responsible for paying doctor bills. It wouldn't be long before bureaucrats would be prescribing how much income a doctor was entitled to make.

Truth Will Out

By George E. Sokolsky

Strange Doings in Our Foreign Affairs Revealed

NO MATTER how astute the imaginative mind may be in planning deceptions, the truth will out some time or other. And the truth about our foreign policy and our foreign relations is that, for at least 10 years and probably longer, they have been managed to the detriment of the United States.

This is not accidental. A policy must be conceived and carried out by men. It will not be better than the men are fit to service it. Unfortunately, the man responsible for the conception and conduct of our foreign policy, Franklin D. Roosevelt, is dead and is unable to add his testimony to the horrible tale being gathered by the federal grand jury in New York and the Thomas committee. His closest associate in this work, Harry Hopkins, is dead, too. Cordell Hull, former secretary of state, has left a record, but it does not provide the key to the confusion, since he himself admits that he was not consulted on the most important questions of policy. Henry Morgenthau Jr. also wrote much, but as one reads it today, it becomes increasingly clear that he was rarely in the know.

THE CONFUSION is highlighted by the Chambers-Hiss case, which proves one thing beyond doubt: the state department was a chaotic organization, badly administered, without a sense of the security of the nation. This was due to many causes, not the least of which was the elimination of the trained and expert "career" men and the employment in their stead of young lawyers, ideologically conditioned to an antagonism to American traditional policies.

For instance, consider Far Eastern affairs, with which I am most familiar. That policy had for many years been directed by Dr. Stanley Hornbeck, a recognized authority on the subject, a man of great knowledge and long experience. He was sent to represent this country somewhere in Europe from which, in due course, he resigned. In his place, as the controlling individual in charge of the Far East, was placed Lauchlin Currie, a newly naturalized Canadian, unattached by habit or tradition to the United States and not particularly expert in Far Eastern affairs. And all sorts of doctrinaire persons, not in any manner associated with China or Japan or any Far Eastern country, emerged as authorities. Then there was the "Amerasia" case, in the course of which state department files were found not in the state department but in a magazine in New York which had consistently taken a pro-Russian position. Nothing very important was done about that.

OR LET US CONSIDER the vast authority of Alger Hiss. No matter what comes of the Chambers-Hiss case, it is impossible to understand how documents which Hiss wrote and which obviously he had no right to show to anyone, not immediately concerned with security problems, found their way to Chambers, who says Hiss gave them to him—which Hiss, of course, denies.

Yet, Alger Hiss, whose name was included in a list sent to the department of justice by the Dies committee in 1941 as a member of the Harold Ware group of Communists infiltrating the government—this Alger Hiss was one of the most important new men in the state department; he was one of Roosevelt's experts at Yalta; he organized the San Francisco conference, which gave Soviet Russia two memberships in the United Nations while the United States got only one; it was at San Francisco that the veto was made the instrument of Soviet power in the United Nations, the charter of which Hiss was an author.

WHEN PAT HURLEY, our ambassador to China, protested that some of our boys over there were working for Russia and not for the United States—the state department gave Hurley the air. When the Reds in OSS and OWI lost their jobs, they were given jobs in the state department. UNRRA was filled with these Red boys and the state department let it go that way.

What needs to be done in the interest of national security is an investigation of the state department from 1933 to 1948. And it needs to be an open and complete investigation—without the slightest regard to which nation objects or whose reputation is realistically proved.

High Cost of Red Tape

PAPERWORK for half of the 3,000,000 purchases made each year by civilian agencies of the federal government costs more than the materials themselves.

This information is vouchsafed by former President Herbert Hoover, chairman of the commission on organization of the executive branch of the government. By congressional direction, the commission has been functioning in high gear for the last 15 months. Formal report on its findings will be submitted to the 81st Congress early next month.

A task force of the commission, having examined into the situation, has found that the federal establishment could save $250,000,000 annually in buying supplies and equipment. Lack of a government-wide system, together with a maze of red tape required by law, is among the causes attributed for the wastage of public funds.

The examining group is headed by Russell Forbes, former commissioner of purchase for the City of New York. He enumerates the following as "the underlying deficiencies" in federal supply operations:

A maze of laws and regulations surrounds the whole process of purchase with unnecessary red tape. The emphasis of the laws is not on promoting efficiency but upon preventing fraud. Over-regulation encourages routine buying, prevents economy and the exercise of initiative.

This failure is reflected in organization, in appropriation and administrative systems, and in personal classification and salaries which are inadequate for professional competence.

Purchasing officers do not participate to the necessary degree in budget and operations planning.

There is vastly different emphasis in regulation of the eight different mutually dependent operations that make up the supply function. Purchase and disposal are heavily regulated. Storage and issue, and utilization of surplus inventories, receive little attention. Traffic management is largely neglected.

Inspection of quality is almost nonexistent in civilian purchasing. Specifications are not well drawn or standardized. Items of property are identified under 17 different systems of nomenclature that vary even within individual agencies, so that a single type of ballbearing, for example, has 239 separate designations.

According to the Forbes report, simplified and coordinated procedures for the purchase of military and civilian supplies would reduce inventories $2,500,000,000 besides cutting buying costs.

The report notes that the government has in storage inventories valued at some $27,000,000,000 and operates at least 1,000,000 motor vehicles valued at about $2,000,000,000. Nearly 150,000 federal employes are engaged in supply operations amounting to nearly $1,000,000,000 by civilian agencies and $5,000,000,000 by the armed services.

Jokes About Reds

By The Associated Press

BERLIN — Berlin still jokes about the Russians. One story tells about a German who lived in a seaport. He used to go down to the harbor every day and just stand there for hours looking out to sea. People began to wonder about him. One day even the town's Russian commandant went down to ask what he was looking for so sadly.

The German answered: "Why, I'm just waiting for the arrival of those grain ships which the Russians promised to send us from the Soviet Union." The Russian patted the German on the shoulder and replied gently in broken German: "Don't look for those ships here. Look in your newspapers."

WHILE the country at large is alert to the Communist menace, thanks to the "cold war," it still remains to be demonstrated that as a people we understand the workings of the free enterprise system and are willing to let it work.

The test is to come very soon inasmuch as the "fight on inflation" will involve the advocacy of measures whose acceptance would make it impossible for the free enterprise system to function effectively because private investment would be stifled.

The Democratic party leadership has only hinted at what the economic future might hold, but the CIO is specific. Philip Murray, in a recent report to the CIO convention at Portland, advanced a program which strikes at the very roots of democratic capitalism.

Mr. Murray is concerned with what he calls the "unearned profits of inflation." He suggests that congress establish controls over the price structure and that prices should not merely be frozen but "rolled back." Also, that an excess profits tax should be enacted, as well as a tax on undistributed profits. The government, it is suggested should "allocate, ration and control inventories," wages would be free to rise, and 25,000,000 "or more individuals would be removed from the income tax rolls by increasing their exemptions.

Presumably, this attack on inflation would be in the public interest, benefit the workers, and set matters aright in general. But would it?

IN THE FIRST PLACE, business will not function on anything near a full employment basis unless it is making a good profit. Take one point advocated in the CIO program and assume that prices are merely frozen, not rolled back; then, are boosted from the 39 percent average rate paid in the third quarter of this year to 50 percent. What then would be left for the owners of the country's incorporated businesses?

To illustrate, the corporate gross profit level was 33.5 billion dollars (annual rate before taxes) in the second quarter, of which 2.5 billion dollars represented higher unit costs of inventories. The wage and salary payments (annual rate) for corporate business are estimated at 96.5 billion dollars in the third quarter.

Assuming that profits in the third quarter continued at the second quarter rate, a 15 percent wage increase to be deducted therefrom would amount to 14.5 billion dollars, leaving 19 billion dollars of profits to be taxed. At a 50 percent tax rate 9.5 billion dollars would be the new over-all net profit level.

To continue further, if prices were rolled back this 9.5 billion-dollar profit would be reduced by some incalculable, but not by any means insignificant, amount, and inventory losses necessitated by declining prices might well become staggering. In the process, marginal concerns would rapidly fall into the loss column. While such losses would be regrettable, and would seriously affect individual businesses, the over-all loss to the economy would be more important.

During such a retrenchment period capital expenditure, which are closely related to profits, would drop precipitously, and it is this type of business outlay that has been one of the prime movers in our postwar prosperity. This year, for example, business is expected to spend 18.6 billion dollars on plant and equipment, which may be compared with the 20 billion net profit estimate. And note that the drop in taxable net income, even with the higher 50 percent corporate tax rate, would cut federal revenues by 3.5 billion dollars.

UNDER THE CIO program it is very doubtful that profits would hold at even the hypothetical 9.5 billion level, but suppose they did. The last year that corporate profits were near such a figure was 1941 when the net profit total was 9.4 billion. And in that year hourly earnings (in manufacturing) averaged 73 cents, about half of the current rate. Furthermore, in 1940 the monthly average unemployment was 5,600,000 persons. These statistics are certainly not happy reading for the country's wage-earners.

What the CIO advocates is, in the final analysis, a totalitarian program that would reduce profits so drastically in a short period of time that the entire economy would collapse. Employment would be reduced very sharply and the government, due to loss of taxes, would run at a deficit.

High profits, high wages and full employment go together. It is true, as charged by the CIO that corporate profits are far above the 1939 level; in fact, they are about four times greater, but this profit has been largely retained in businesses for rehabilitation and expansion — the kind of expansion that has made the jobs that have given the country full employment in the postwar period.

PROFITS are not cash which is disbursed to stockholders as dividends, although it is commonly supposed that this is what is done. In fact, dividend payments to business owners, it should be noted carefully, are now about 39 percent of profits. The dividend total of 7.7 billion estimated for 1948 is only twice the 1939 amount. Obviously, stockholders have not been bloated from "profit inflation"; their increase in buying power, compared with prewar, has not been equal to that experienced by the wage-earner despite that fact that profits have increased fourfold.

Responsible labor leadership in this country must accept the fact that a high over-all rate of profits is necessary to a healthy economy and the full employment of the country's wage-earners. Also, it should recognize that the bulk of corporate earnings is retained in business for expansion, rehabilitation, and other job producing and job stabilizing endeavors.

Until this is understood our system of free enterprise will be in danger because its basic tenets are denied. And in the short run the adoption of the CIO program would seal the doom of our present prosperity and its attendant full employment.

Smuggling Honor

By The Associated Press

FLORENCE, S. C.—A smuggling job on rice gained Thomas Jefferson an honorary membership in the Agricultural Society of South Carolina. Attorney W. Marshall Bridges, a student of Jefferson's life, reports that the 1787 ambassador to Great Britain found rice there superior to that grown in South Carolina.

He looked into the matter, and found that the superiority derived from the rice, grown in Piedmont, Italy, being of a different strain than that grown in the United States. In one of his notebooks Jefferson wrote that an Italian muleteer "will smuggle a sack of rough rice for me to Genoa; it being death to export it in that form." The smuggler was successful, and the new rice thrived in this country. In recognition, Marshall says, Jefferson was accorded the membership.

The Once Over

That Two-Platoon System Again

Soon the football rules makers will be getting into action with widening protests against the unlimited substitutions and the two-platoon system up as chief topics for debate. Asa S. Bushnell, of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, is among those seeing nothing wrong with the new-team-every-minute routine. "Why is a team ganging up on the opposition more unfair when it uses twenty-two players in fixed groups of eleven men than when it uses twenty-two or more in varying combinations during the game," he asks.

Now, Asa, stop fooling around. You really must know that when a coach takes out eleven men at one time, puts in eleven more he is shooting in a completely new team of fresh men. When he sends in a couple of new players now and then he is not sending in a completely new team.

You might as well ask, what's the difference between sending in a new pitcher in the crucial stages of a ball game and sending in a newer and better baseball nine. Or what's the difference on the battlefield between using a new general and a couple of new gunners or using an entirely new army, with air support?

You say the unlimited-substitution rule is good "because it lessens player fatigue and reduces injuries." You mean it lessens the fatigue of the player on the team with the most subs and it increases injuries among the eleven weary but game guys on the other eleven who have to stick, give their all and be all-around football men.

You say, "Devotees of football apparently approve of the two-platoon system because they find the game more engaging yearly." Nuts, Mr Bushnell!

The devotees of football are dazed, confounded, perplexed and dizzy. They go because they cling to the delusion they can in time master the mysteries of what goes on down there. Some of them go because, like the crooked gambling joint, it is the only game in town in the late fall and early winter. And a lot go because they are suckers for tradition color, long walks to the right portal, college songs and a bender in the open country.

Not one football fan in a thousand goes because he is the kind of sportsman who likes to see a very game but outclassed eleven knocked all over the lot by the use of two, three or four elevens. Football with unlimited substitutions has all the ethics of a dock fight, a riot in an alcoholic ward and a battle in a subway.

Any lad fit to be a football player is fit to take it as well as give it and is done no good by a system which teaches him that he can be expected to do one or the other, but not both, say we.

But we are only a cash customer and a lover of sport, so don't count much. Bring on a roller derby! We know what to expect.

Ritual

Solemn of heart we roam the beach
Until the sun's last dying throes
Toss a bright jewel within our reach
To bury where the speargrass grows.

Sand, protect it from chastening cold
Until winter dies with our own dead woes,
And our ransomed love leaves its prison hold
To dance with us where the speargrass grows.

HENRY MOSER

We'd feel more hopeful about the Russian crisis if we heard that Stalin, Molotov and Vishinsky had taken up ski jumping for the winter.

Mrs. A. G. Moeller of Cheyenne, Wyoming, has the Squawk of the Year. She had the right answer to a $24,000 phantom voice on "Sing It Again," when her telephone rang, but, just as she was about to give it, central cut her off. Mrs. Moeller is now satisfied that she not only has the phantom voice, but the phantom telephone company co-operation.

Last-Minute Bulletins

By Truman Twill

A department store in Dallas, Tex., keeps a sturdy leather-bound book inside the front entrance for the convenience of customers who want to leave messages for members of their families, friends and so on. The book is a great time-saver and a fine public relations idea.

"Have gone to put another nickel in parking meter," a husband may scribble in it for the benefit of a wife who otherwise would accuse him of being late for an appointment. One wag addressed this note to his missus:

"Meant to go to the doctor's but have decided to go straight to the undertaker's. You will find me there." Notations range from stuff like that to terse orders such as "Hurry up." All are signed, of course, by the writer and addressed to the person who's supposed to read them.

This is similar to a custom once common in European cities of leaving messages on a public bulletin board—and the custom never should have been abandoned. Every city could use a convenience like that. It would do for the inhabitants on a quick-order basis what newspapers do in their classified advertising pages—keep them in touch with one another.

Or to make a direct comparison, it would do in a public way what some enterprising families have learned to do by means of a blackboard on which messages are scribbled—"Have gone to the store. Back in 20 minutes"—"Mrs. Fumadiddle called. Will call back later"—"Remember to pay the gas bill"—and so on.

The way it is now if a native scheduled to meet his or her alter ego at 4:30 for afternoon tea wants to put back the date 15 minutes to do some shopping, there's no way to pass along the information at the last minute. Or if someone makes a sudden shift in plans and can't pick up a passenger according to a prearranged schedule, the passenger is stood up.

That's where a book—or a blackboard—or perhaps a community public address system at a central location would come in handy.

"Attention Mrs. Jones' husband is waiting for you in front of the Odeon Theater"—"Don't forget to meet me tonight in the postoffice lobby, Baby-Face"—"I am staying downtown for another hour. Hurry home and start dinner"—that sort of thing.

Even if it's never done, it's still a good idea, as thousands will realize as they think of its possibilities. Meanwhile, it's being used in Dallas, Tex. "Come to the drugstore, Lizzie, and I'll buy you a chocolate nut sundae while we talk things over"—"Couldn't wait any longer this time, see you later, Roger dead"—"Broke a shoelace and have gone to get a replacement"—"Call me before starting home"—"Take a look at the red coat in the window at the Colossal and keep dreaming of a white Christmas"—the possibilities are endless.

STABILITY SEEN FOR BUSINESS

Leveling Off To Sound Basis Indicated in Federal Reserve Area.

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, Dec. 13—The postwar boom in general business activity finally has leveled off in the Fourth Federal Reserve district which embraces all of Ohio and parts of Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

According to an exhaustive review of the district's economy, released today by the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland, 1948 is marked by the definite appearance of stability in the general business situation.

The bulletin states that "total industrial production in the first 10 months advanced 9 per cent above the 1935-39 average rate. Output was about three per cent greater than in the like period of 1947, and probably represents nearly full capacity of the existing industrial machine under present conditions."

The number of workers employed by Fourth district manufacturers, the review continues, declined fractionally through the first three quarters of the year but substantial additions were made during the last period.

Employment Increase

Total employment in manufacturing industries in the district was about three million this year, an increase of 45 per cent over 1939. The bank added that the average hourly earnings of all production workers rose from $1.249 an hour in September, 1947, to $1.363 an hour in September, 1948, a gain of nine per cent.

In the same interval, the consumers' price index advanced only 6.3 per cent. "This was the first period since the end of the war," the review points out, "in which hourly wages rose more rapidly than the cost of living and so represented a real gain in the standard of living for the wage earner."

Prices also appear to have leveled off the bank said, with wholesale prices being three per cent below the all-time record peak of 169.4 established in August.

Building material prices, on the other hand, advanced nearly five per cent while metal prices continued to reflect acute shortages and rose 12 per cent.

Gas Problem Appraised

The bulletin adds:

"With respect to near-term prospects in the district, production may be hampered this winter by shortages of natural gas for industrial purposes and electric power.

"Loss of this gas, for which firm contracts had been negotiated a number of months ago, would cause serious interruption to industrial processes during cold weather."

Stocks of Lake Superior iron ore at furnaces and on Lake Erie docks on Nov. 1 announced to 43.9 million tons, an increase of five per cent over a year ago, the bank declared.

These stocks, together with additional ore moved in November should be about adequate, the review continues, to maintain blast furnace operation until navigation is resumed in the spring.

Construction Rise Seen

Construction activity in the fourth district will reach a level of around 946 million dolalrs, 25 per cent ahead of last, according to the bulletin, with residential contracts up 15 per cent in value from 1947.

"However, both the floor area and the number of new dwelling units will be below 1947 levels," the review states, "with the average estimated cost per square foot being $7.88, an increase of 15 per cent over the $6.83 average cost in 1947.

OHIO CATTLEMEN TO PREVIEW EXPERIMENT

By The Associated Press

WOOSTER, O., Dec. 13 — Do large or small-type animals make the fastest gains and produce the cheapest meat?

Ohio beef cattlemen may get the answer to that all-important cattle-feeding problem before long.

Friday, they'll get an opportunity to preview a new experiment aimed at deciding the question. They have been invited to an "open house" at the Ohio agricultural experiment station here.

James H. Warner, extension beef specialist at Ohio State university, said this open house will be a good opportunity for both beef breeders and feeders to see a feeding test get started and discuss with research men how it will be conducted.

Paul Gerlaugh of the animal science department of the experiment station, is starting 90 head of Herefords on a test to determine the effect of size on economical production. He will obtain data on feeding efficiency and carcass value of different types of calves under various management practices.

Calves being used in the experiment were shipped from Sheridan, Wyo., and were selected on the basis of large, medium and small size breeding animals in the parent herds.

General order of the tests, according to Warner, will be to divide the calves into three groups, with each group consisting of 10 small, 10 medium and 10 large animals.

Calves in the first group will be full-fed for 225 days, then marketed.

Group II calves will be rough-wintered on a silage and light grain ration, grazed 100 days and full fed 100 days before being marketed.

The third group will be rough-wintered, grazed throughout the 1949 summer, rough-wintered the 1949-50 winter, grazed again during the 1950 summer and marketed as grass fed steers when about 30 months old.

Columbusite Wanted For Robbery Surrenders

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13 — Jack D. Fleming, 24, Columbus, kept his date with the police yesterday and surrendered to face armed robbery and kidnap charges.

His companion, Raymond Grambo, 30, also of Columbus, was arrested last week. Fleming announced Saturday he would surrender Sunday at Union station.

Dr. and Mrs. George M. Curtis filed the robbery charges. They said the men invaded their home last Monday and threatened to "get them" if the robbery was reported.

Mrs. Anna Garrison of Columbus, filed the kidnaping charges. She accused the pair of taking her 14-year-old daughter and a 16-year-old neighbor girl to Dayton and Cincinnati Dec. 4.

Police said both Grambo and Fleming denied implication in the robbery but admitted taking the girls on a trip. The men told police the girls went voluntarily.
